

Within our focus areas, we are looking to invest in companies which have either shown high growth or high profitability. These companies are relatively unknown, and have very sharp, savvy promoters who are looking for professional management, financial capital, augmenting of management bandwidth and access to systems, processes and being able to attract talent.

A typical I-farms potential investee company would have the following:

- High Integrity and Unparalleled Ethics
- Proven business model – through either high growth or high profitability or both
- Hunger for more growth or more profitability
- Potential eventuality to get re-rated post the private equity investment due to corporate governance, systems, processes and increased ability to attract talent
